Hi,

I got confirmation that you don't need to attend the briefing tomorrow for Alex, but thanks for offering. Enjoy your Friday.

Amy

Hi,

Yes, there won't be any PCA/PCT at this point that I can see. Having you there for the Alex briefing would be good if you are around just from a modeling aspect.

Hi Amy,

So aldicarb has moved away from PCA/PCT, sad but true. I have been attending the meeting just in case. My two questions are first whether you still would like me to attend and second if you would need some fate science support for the meeting Friday since your actual fate scientists are on vacation. There is no wrong answer to any of these questions. I am simply here to help as needed.
